Some of them have already identified themselves so thoroughly with their new home that a collector, not conversant with their history, will unhesitatingly consider them as part of the indigenous flora. In a few instances plants, naturally wild in North Australia, have been introduced in a cultivated form, and these cultivated plants, escaped from cultivation, may mislead the collector considerably. In most cases the plants enumerated have been introduced during my residence in the Territory; others I have seen, so to say, in their infancy, and a few may be said to be, for me, prehistoric. Of these latter, two, Tamarindus Indicus, Lin., and Hyptis suaveolens, Poit., have been included in the Flora Australiensis, but I fear I must, nevertheless, deny them the right to be called truly indigenous. Tamarindus Indicus...
