It is fair to presume that the faulty character of the text-books in general use is accountable in part for these results. With few exceptions American text-books in Arithmetic seem to leave the teacher out of the account. The objections to this practice are: (1)The danger for want of time of giving to the pupils unsuitable or poorly-arranged problems; (2) the harm done to pupils eyes by close and long-continued looking, frequently before a lighted window; (3) a loss of the teachers time in copying.
