The alders were separated more widely from each other, and grew more in scattered clumps, which sometimes formed green islets, circled with a fringe of scarlet, wherever their red roots were washed and polished by the flowing waters. Now the stream would sweep amid tussocks of long waving grass, crowned here and there by a broad branching elm, whose branches dipped in the tide, that whirled in deepening eddies where its projecting roots overhung the water. Now it rippled for a few yards over a pebbly bottom, and then, turned by a spit of yellow sand--thick trodden with the tracks of deer, of wolves, and not unfrequently with those of bears and panthers--it would slide round a point of land black with the shade of lofty pines. A frith of long wild grass, growing evenly as a fresh-mowed meadow, and embayed among the thousand points of a tamarack swamp, received now the spreading river. And now, again, it was circumscribed once more into a deep, black, formallooking pool, circled with water-lilies; and henceforth, around many a beetling crag, thick sheathed with laurel and the clustering hemlock, and beneath the shadows of many a tall mountain rising from forests of bass-wood and maple, it marched proudly onward till it expanded into a magnificent lake. Coasting along the shores of this lake for a mile or two, they came to...
