All England manifested like sympathy with America. Truly these two nations are allied by a union of hearts. Political federation is often a fiction, but the affinity between the branches of the Anglo-Saxon community is the supreme fact of the age. William Durban. London, Sept. 21. J Missions in the Northwest. By H. D. Williams. The coming National Missionary Convention at Minneapolis will assemble in the heart of a missionary country for our people. Minnesota, Wisconsin, the two Dakotas, and Montana constitute an area of 494, 745 square miles, making them a section larger than the whole of the Pacific coast. In natural material wealth it is surpassed by no other section of the land. In rapid and substantial development at present in progress, it is equaled by no other section of the whole earth. It has a population of 4, 785, 000, and there are only about eighty of our churches in the entire section. No other section of the country so large, so intelligent and so rich in possibilities for the future, has been so neglected. Thirty and forty years ago was the time above all times to send money and missionaries into this country. To-day we work at great disadvantage because it was not done then. We who live here find ourselves saying: Oh, that somebDdy had aroused our f ithers to missionary work in these parts! One dollar then was worth ten dollars now. This...
